KeyForge Adventure Deck Boxes kf.sirjorj.com v1.1 Aug 6 2025 21:16:19

Requirements

- 3 or 4 sheets per Adventure Deck: Internal Deck Boxes, Front, and Back
 - Printed at 100% scaling on 110lb cardstock
- Glue (basic Elmers Glue or similar)
 - Enough to hold but not too much or it will warp the paper and make a mess
- Metal ruler and hobby knife (X-ACTO or similar) to score paper
- Sleeved decks or similar sized object to put in box during assembly
 - 3d printable block models are available for download (Unsleeved Deck Block)
- Flat, heavy objects to use for support and pressure
 - Books or loaded cardboard card storage boxes

Standard vs Nightmare

- Some deck boxes have a Nightmare version as well as the Standard version.
- This is a thicker box to hold the Nightmare Expansion.
- If you make this, you will need to print 2 copies of the Nightmare Internal Deck Box.
- There is a 3d printable 'Nightmare' block to be combined with the Unsleeved Deck Block.

1) Internal Deck Boxes

Cut out both Internal Deck Boxes on the solid lines and score the dotted lines.

Fold around sleeved deck or 3d printed block and glue G1 under the opposite end.

Put glue on flap G2 and fold it in.

Put glue on the G3 flaps and fold them in.

Fold over the remaining flap.

Make sure it is all squared off and apply pressure for a strong bond.

Glue the G4 sides to each other, making sure the boxes are straight.

2) Front

Cut out the Front on the solid lines and score on the dotted lines.

Put glue on the back of the main center area and attach the Internal Deck Boxes to it.

Set it upright with the bottom G5 flap under it to make sure it is centered and squared off.

Put glue on the back of the 3 G5 slots and attach them to the sides and bottom of the Interal Deck Boxes.

Set aside pressed between things to hold it tight as it dries.

3) Back

Cut out the Back on the solid lines and score on the dotted lines.

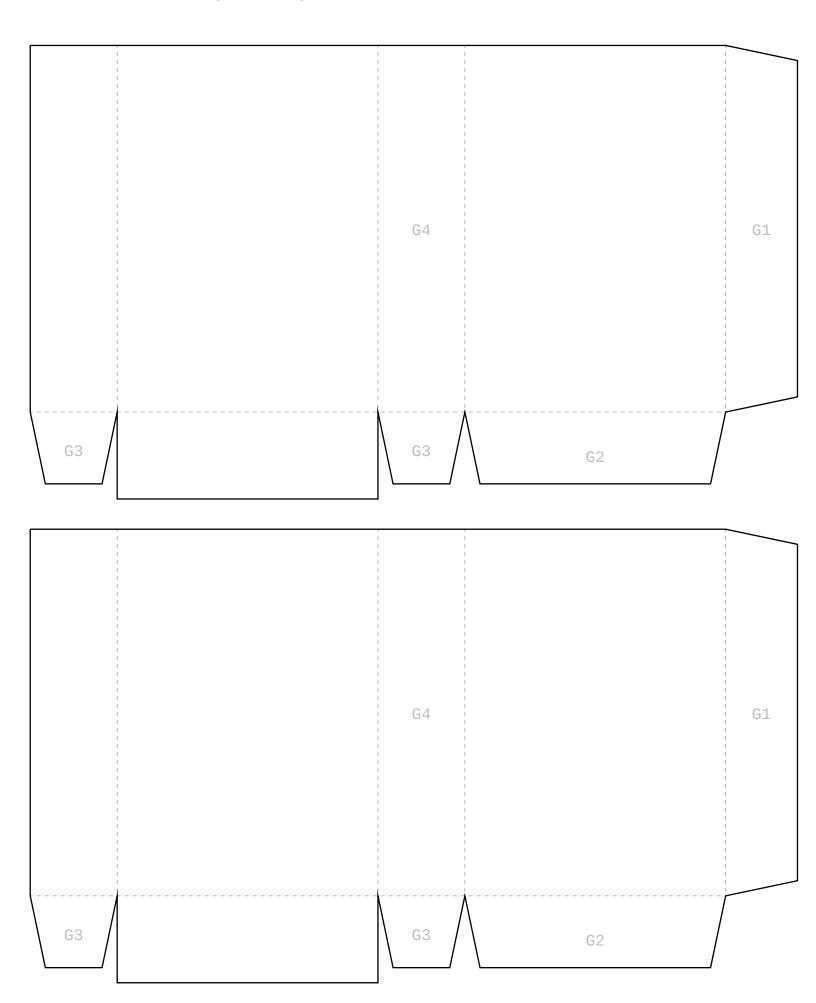

Put glue on the back sides of the side flaps and bottom flap, but NOT the main center area.

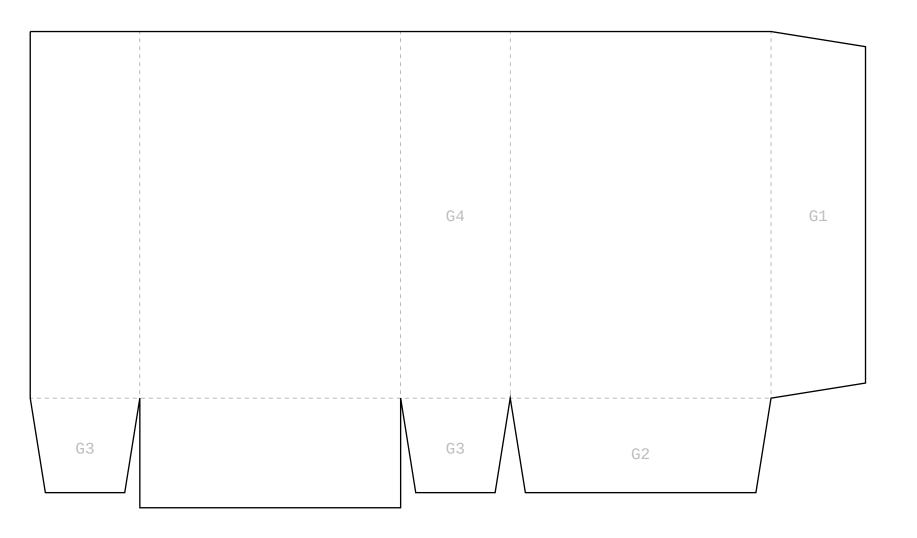

Attach to the back of the Internal Deck Boxes and Front, attaching the sides and bottom onto the G5's.

Make sure the lid and top flaps are tucked under the Back.

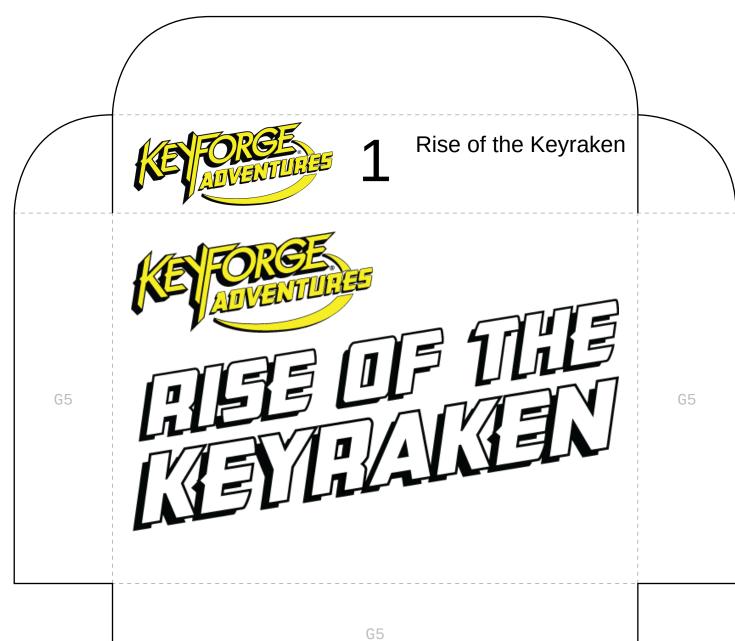

Make sure the Back is pressed in tight to hold the lid closed.

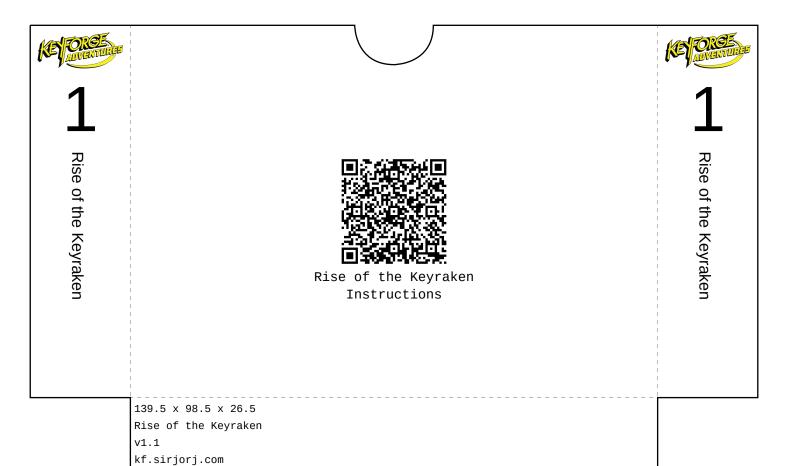

Set aside pressed between things to dry.

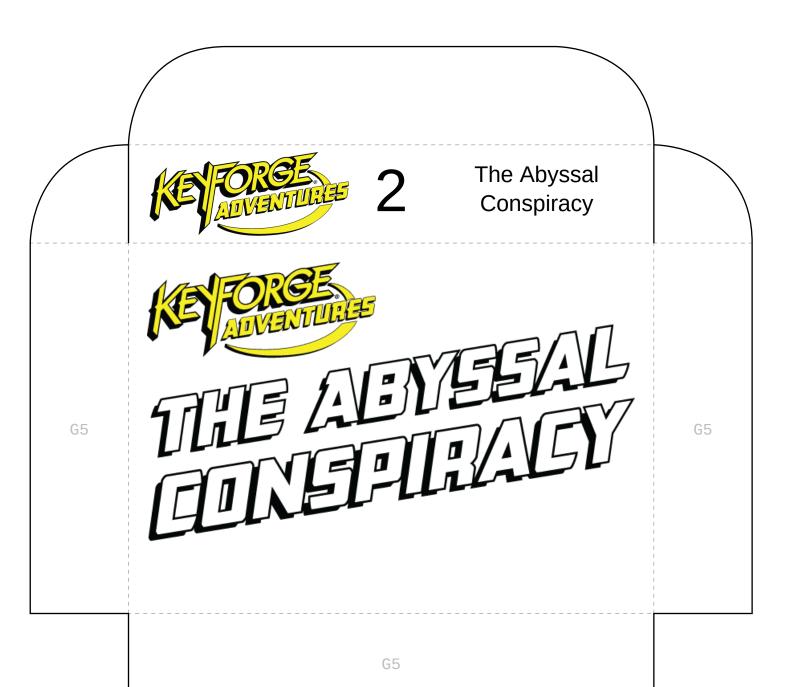

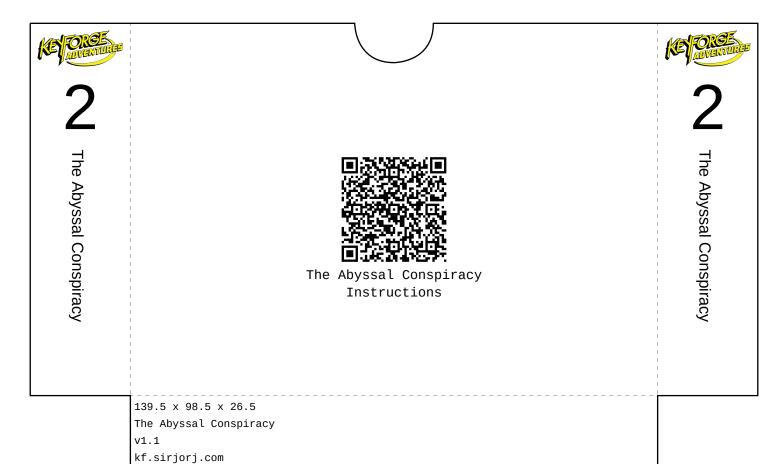

1) Rise of the Keyraken - Standard (front)

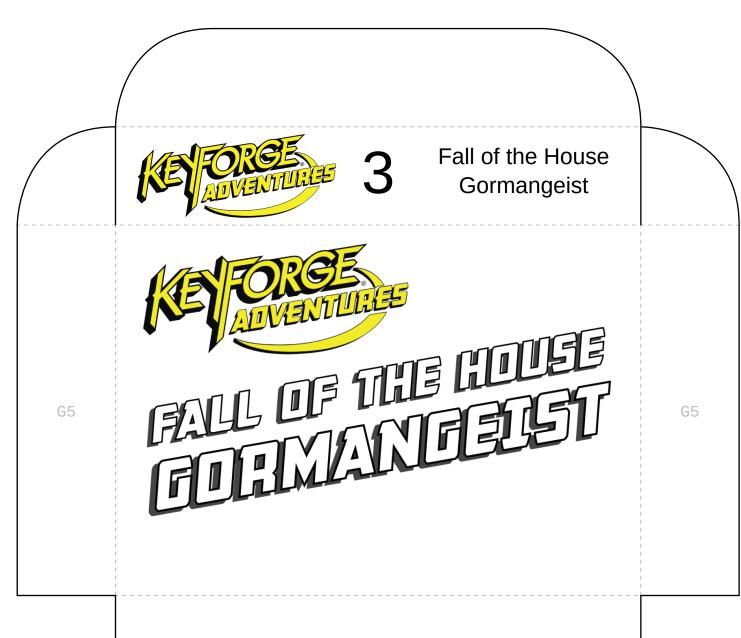

2) The Abyssal Conspiracy - Standard (front)

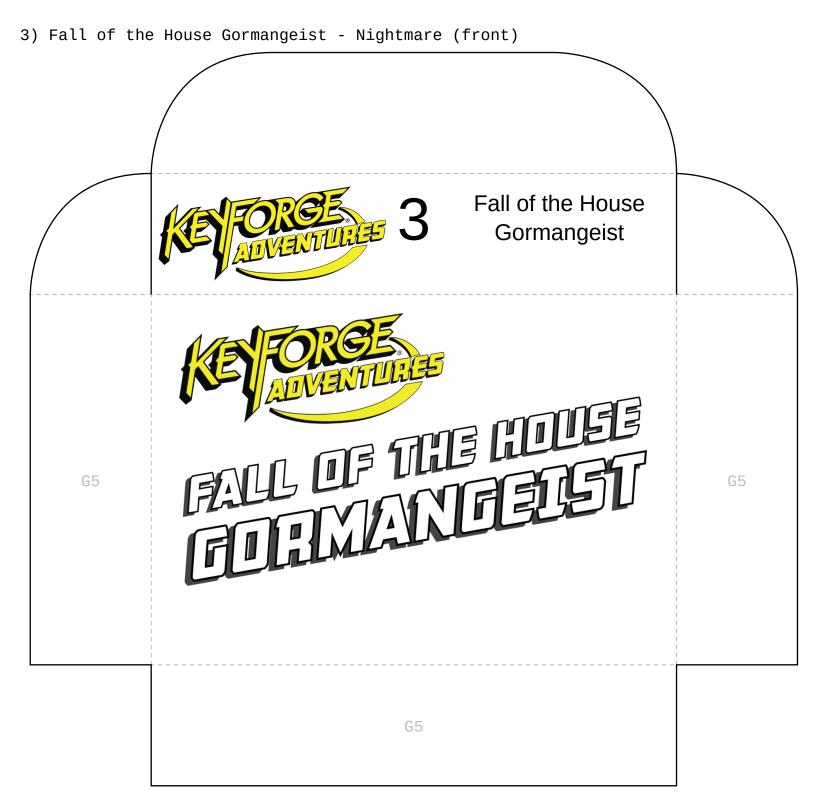

3) Fall of the House Gormangeist - Standard (front)
